

Yesterday, I lost my wallet while walking in the park.

I felt extremely sad because all my important documents and money were inside.

No one around seemed to notice, and I felt helpless and lonely.